Freaks The Free Spirits

There are many different players in the game of Greenopoly. These are the Freaks. They have a free spirit and many times make up their own rules. Yet they are an important part of the game.

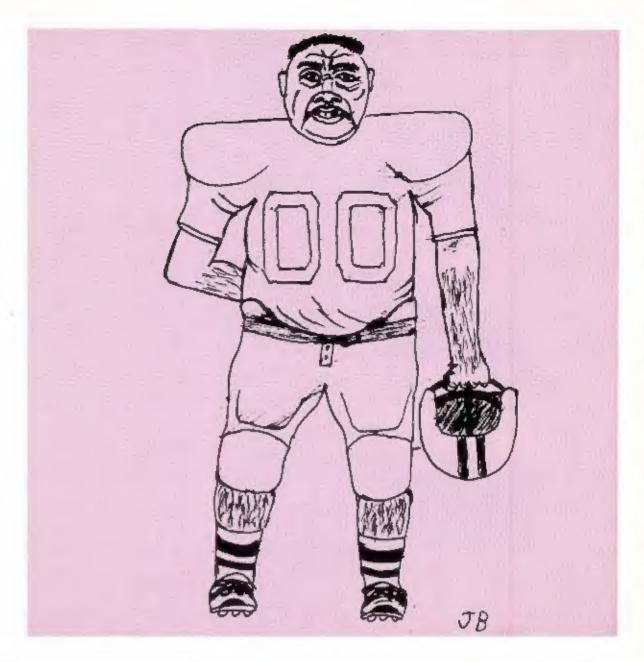

Authority The Executive Branch

These are the authorities. They make the rules of the game, and they are the ones who determine who wins and who loses. They keep the game going, and help each to win the game in his own way.

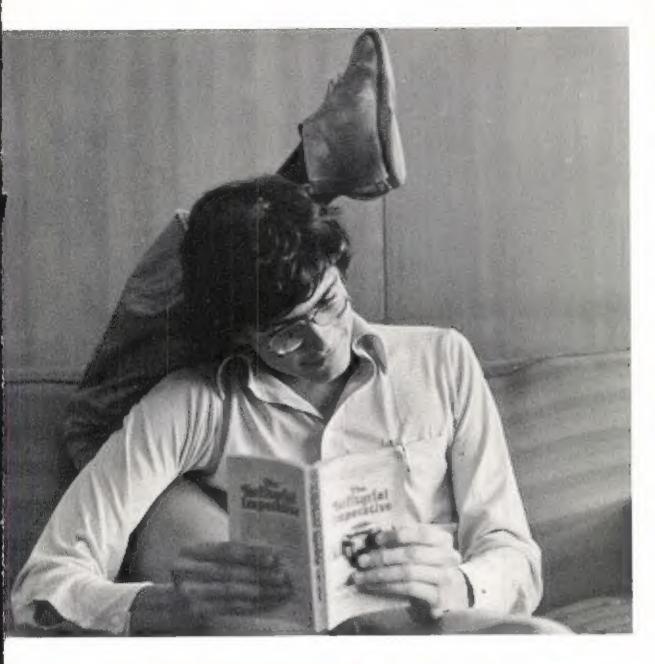

Jocks The Athletics And Supporters

The jocks have another responsibility. Besides academics, they play a second half. They help create a well-rounded environment.

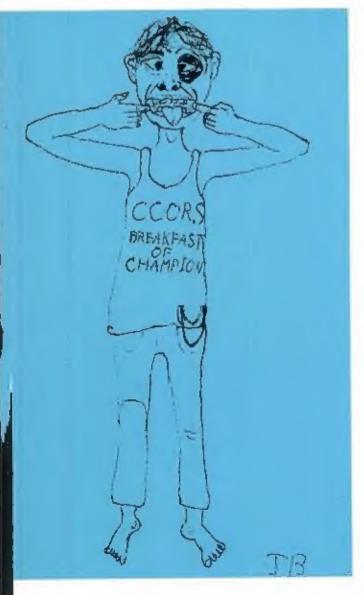

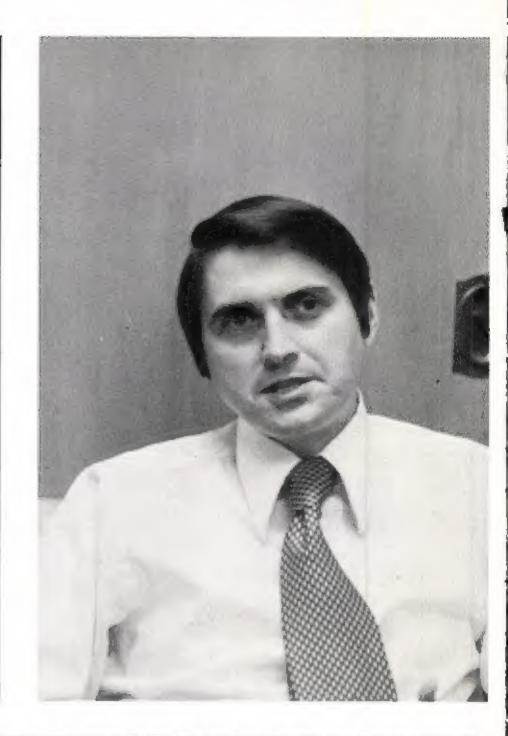

Clowns Jokers On The Hill

When the game gets too serious, it's always the jokers who bring it back into perspective. The touch of these uninhibited people is a vital and necessary part of life on the hill.

Reverend Joseph R. Thornton, III

He has the dubious label of Administrative Assistant only because Freshman English, Philosophy, Man and His Religion, and Modern European History would not all fit on the shingle. A man of many talents, he places great faith for the future. We who constitute this hope, are supported by his confidence, and will be the fulfillment of all his dreams.

Could we ever forget the ontological argument... Salinger... Seymour... Zarathustra... Napoleon...? The list is as long as our potential for knowledge and self-growth. "Hey, Rev!" You are somehow embodied within us, for you taught us to think. To you, Joe Thornton, our "pedagogue immortal" we dedicate this, our Cavalcade of 1974.

LORD, GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO CHANGE THE THINGS THAT I CAN CHANGE,

THE FAITH TO ACCEPT THOSE THAT I CAN NOT CHANGE,

AND THE WISDOM TO KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE TWO.

A Scottish Prayer

Exhibit Of People And Moods

Many different people and situations create the atmosphere at Greenhill. The unique element is what distinguishes one personality from another. These identities have a vitality which penetrates every aspect of life. When diverse caricatures are portrayed collectively, the resulting mosaic crystalizes the colors and qualities of individuality.

The problems of the puzzling, lonely world are met with answers and friends, as we contemplate ourselves.

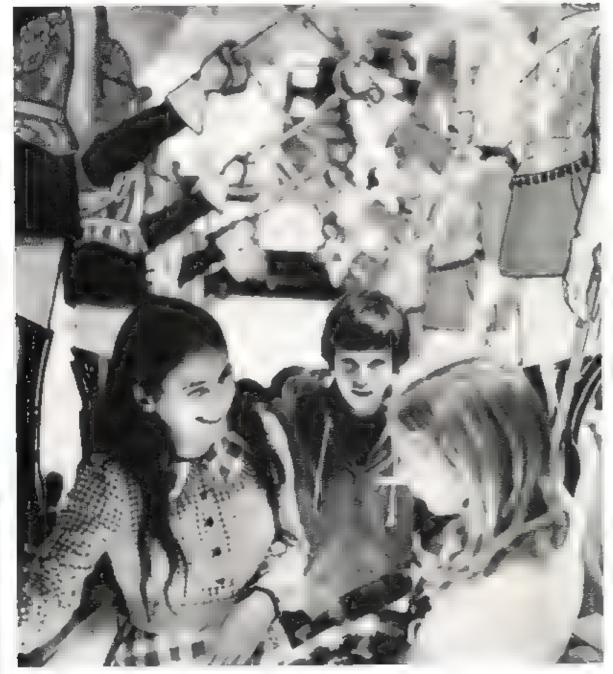

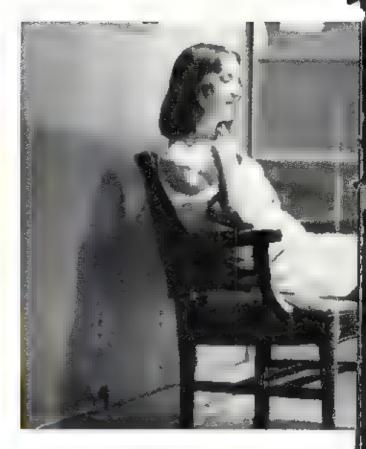

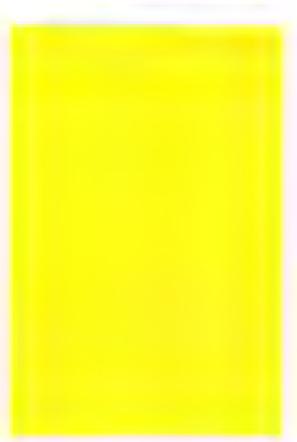

An easy and relaxed atmosphere with times of laughter and loneliness for both students and teachers creates a school of many faces.

Whether it's the easy smiles that come with being friends, or the simple joy in living, everyone does his own thing. It takes a special togetherness in spirit to accomplish this, for being yourself can be very important when you are one of a 1000 others.

On all the crap I learned in high school
It's a wonder
I can think at all
And though my lack of education
Hasn't hurt me none
I can read the writing on the wall.

To the people who spent so many of their afternoons working and sharing the great tragedies of their lives down in the Art room, and enjoying so much of life: it was great. My grateful appreciation to Mrs. Cobb, who tolerated all of our traumas and joined in on all of our successes. Thank You! Mr. Fleming, you've helped me in so many ways, tennis, English, carpooling, and constantly cheering me up. To all the Flemings, a family full of surprises, Thank You! To Mrs. Randolph, appreciation for so much extra attention and love in my behalf, you have had a great influence on me. I will never forget all of your caring.

To Daleann, what can you say about a girl with golden hair and a car to match? That she was always there (except when you needed her...) to get you through the never ending battles of day to day life. To Mr. Thornton, I think we really understood each other. I wish that we'd been the same age in high school growing up together, we'd have been close friends. To the people I've probably forgotten to remember, good luck in life. Greenhill has prepared you well for it. It is a great place to be.

I think of God as an old man with a white beard sitting on a fluffy cloud with a long finger pointing out of it and creating on the 7th day the hairs in my nose.

Jesus said "Where's the nearest delicatessen?"

Then he wrapped his thick greasy Jewish lips over the garlicky frankfurter, and took a swig of Dr. Brown's Celery
He said "He who eats a frankfurter and drinks Dr. Brown's Celery eats and drinks the hairs in my nose.

We went to an X-rated film that showed in big close-up all the hairs in the nose When we came out I said to my wife.

You may say
"hairs in the nose"
means something else
But I tell you
"hairs in the nose"
is symbolic for
hairs in the nose
There are such symbols still left and they are the terrifying ones.

Then take me disappearing through the smoke rings of my mind
Down the foggy ruins of time, far past the frozen leaves.
The haunted, frightened trees, out to the windy beach
Far from the twisted reach of crazy sorrow
Yes, to dance beneath the diamond sky with one hand wavin' free
Silhouetted by the sea, circled by the circus sands
With all memory and fate driven deep beneath the waves

Let me forget about today until tomorrow.

No-Color Man

For five years of my life, or ten,
I lived no-color.
In a beige room I talked clipped whispers
with a lady who faded while I looked at her.
Even our voices were oyster-white.
My generous monsters
were pale as puff balls of dust.
Leaves on trees I grew turned dingy. I mowed stale grass.
Friends parked station wagons like huge dead mice
by my house that was nearly invisible.

Dollar bills turned pale when I kept them in my wallet. I dreamed of mountains gray like oceans with no house-lights on them, only coffins that walked and talked and buried each other continually in beige rock in beige sand. Then I discovered the color yellow. I drank yellow for breakfast, yellow at lunch, gold for dinner. Red was the color of pain. Now I eat red all day. The sky is her yellow color. The grass is red, the sources of the grass are orange. Sometimes no-color years rise in slow motion like Mozart on drums. Their name is Chumble. They smile as pale as grass but red piles like needles on my eyes. The color vellow promised me everything. It snows red this month of May which is July. Yellow lives in California. Red islands float like the pain that this book is about.

Open School — Middle And Lower

Eighth Grade

The leaders of the middle school, the eighth grade students, have achieved a great sense of maturity. With the eagerness to learn, they are becoming serious in their studies. In their last year in the middle school, these students are looking forward to the Upper School.

Fifth

The middle school classes can be identified by many distinguishable factors. The fifth grade class at Greenhill are extremely enthusiastic about their school work. They are so eager that they sometimes speak, before they think, when answering a question. Because of their competitiveness, their writings are often imaginative, containing a great deal of passion

Fourth

The fourth grade is a "doing" group. They have a side range of interest, including active participation in singing, acting, and cheerleading. They are very dramatic and outgoing in what they do, and appreciate others' ideas. They have a lot to give, and they enjoy each other's contributions, and, most importantly, retain interest in their activities.

Applause! Applause!

International Club

Once again the International Club has sponsored several dinners, organized by the presidents, Debbie Rodgers and Cathy Potts. One of the dinners was held at Lee Montgomery's house, featuring Mexican Food. Entertainment was provided by Gerald Jones on banjo, and Greenhill's own Wilkes Alexander on banjo and DeeAnn Hagler on guitar. Another dinner was held at Cathy Potts' house, featuring suckling pig. Robert Titley provided the entertainment, playing flamenco guitar.

At right, Bernard Fulton, and at far right, Will Fulton, both partake in the covered dish goodies.

U.S. History Trip Goes East

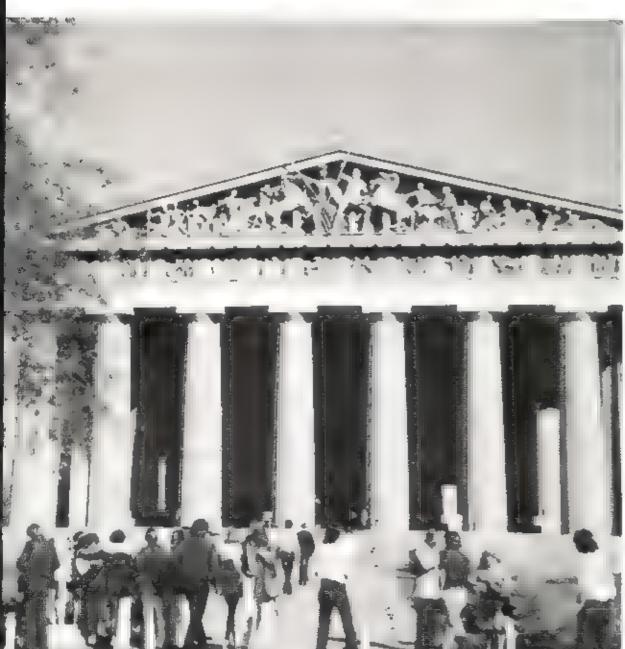

This year Greenhill had a U.S. History Trip for the first time. Approximately twenty-five students participated in the trip, which took place over Thanksgiving vacation. The trip was Sue Roman's idea, and she was a chaperone along with Mr. and Mrs. James Hendrix. The purpose of the trip was to visit Civil War battlefields, universities and other historic sites throughout Tennessee, Virginia, and North Carolina.

In a lighter vein, the group attended Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, held a burping contest, played frisbee and football and entertained on their musical instruments.

Big smiles, bright faces, and lots of spirit the 73-74 cheerleaders The year of the big ten: Lots of hard work, a squabble or two, a superior ribbon, and tons of fun, too!

Animals Give That Natural Touch

A unique feature of Greenhill is the miniature farm, which includes rabbits, goats, peacocks, ponies, etc. This provides an opportunity for the lower and middle school children to observe the habits and characteristics of such wildlife. The preschool and lower school children also make frequent trips to the Dallas and Fort Worth Zoos to further become acquainted with animals.

Frolicking About The Campus

Many Facets To Education

Education is definitely Greenhill's main objective, yet the Greenhill experience offers more to her family. Competition, performance, and a feeling of unity are all part of our school's purpose. We present to you a candid view of our school.

The Lighter Side Of The Honors Banquet

Nancy Elected Basketball Sweetheart

This year's Basketball Princess is senior Nancy Rosenthal. Nancy's court consisted of Susan Hensarling, Rana Holman, Sharon Wiener, and Renee Legault.

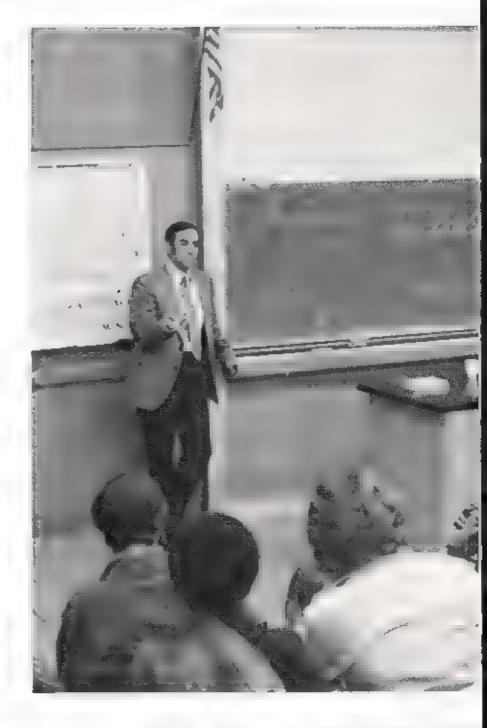

Speakers Tease, Enlighten, And Challenge

A successful aspect of the Greenhill school year has been the Open Forum, a speaker series initiated by Joe Thornton. The speakers included a novel prize winner, Dr. Polycarp Cush, and a city council person, Adlene Harrison. Other speakers and performers were John Schmidt, 1972 Presidential candidate; Dr. James Moore, a Greenhill psychology teacher, and speakers from organizations relevant to the times.

Girls' Gym Class

This year the P.E. department endeavored to make girls' P.E. more interesting and enjoyable. The activities included archery, tennis, gymnastics and tumbling. The department's purchases of new archery and gymnastic equipment helped to broaden the scope of interest, as did the services of Miss Baker, Mrs. Ellis, Miss Hall, and Mrs. Henson.

Pep Assemblies Stimulate Adrenaline

Indoor rallies continued to be humorous and bawdy. Outdoor rallies were a new addition to the agenda. Perhaps the greatest show of spirit was the girls' games in the SPC played at the Hornet gym. Middle school rallies were held in the gym open areas in the Levy Building.

Football Squad Makes Difficult Choice

Although the team's record was poor, it still produced several outstanding players. The most valuable defensive lineman was Jim Robison. Jon Keller was chosen as the most valuable offensive lineman. Clay Kelton and Bob Schultz were the most valuable players, and Lee Gibson and Ches Cochran received the Jock Prather Award. Apart from team awards, Tom Box was named to the first All-Conference TISC team. Bob Schultz and Lee Gibson were named All-City and Ches Cochran and Bob Schultz were named All Private Honorable Mention.

Field Hockey Team

The Greenhill field hockey team finished the 1973 season with a 6-3-1 record, and a surprising third place finish in the Southwestern Preparatory Conference, with a 5-3 record.

The height of the season, aside from keeping a perfect record against Hockaday for the second straight year, was a 1-0 victory over St. John's of Houston. The winning goal was scored by Vicki Giller. Last year's champions, St. John's had been undefeated in conference play for six years.

The Hornets topped the list with six All-Southwest selections: center forward, Renee Legault and right inner, Joanne Powell were selected for the first team. Coleen McCulley, right wing, was named to the second team, and left wing Kathy Dorsey, halfback Kımi Morrıs, and fullback Jennifer Miller received honorable mention.

Basketballers Run To Hot Finish

The basketball team had a hectic time at the beginning of the season due to the shuffling of the coaching staff. The confusion mounted as coach Long was replaced by coach Blakeley, who was then replaced by coach Flanagan. However, this quandry did not hinder the spirit of the boys, which was shown by their victories in the Crandall and Red Oak Tournaments early in the season.

In the final championship game, Greenhill ended in TISC second place because of a mix-up over the clock and a final basket.

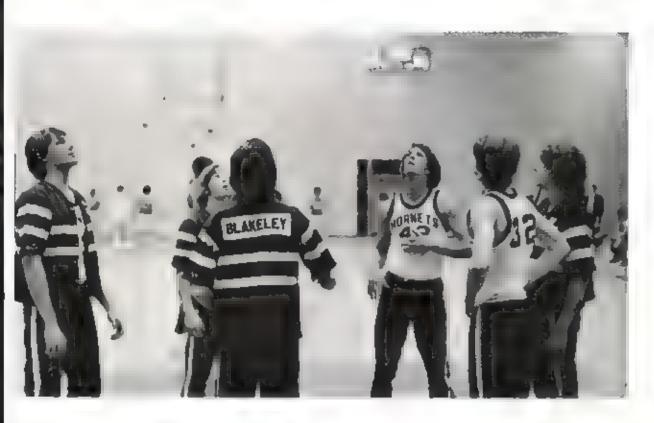

The most valuable player was George Birdsong, who also led the team in scoring, rebounds, and blocking. Chris Hollingsworth and George Birdsong made the TISC first team, and Greg Baten and Tommy Box made the TISC second team. The captains were Robin Blakeley, Chris Hollingsworth, and Tom Box.

B Team Stresses Quickness

The B team coached by Jim Hendrix ran, shot and out-hustled many an opponent. They ended the season right behind Cistercian and issued a challenge to decide first place using the sixth and seventh members of the A team along with the B team — just as Cistercian had done all season.

Kneeling: Danny Butler, Tim Pickard, Mark Bowman, Clifford Fischer, Randy Greenberg. Standing: Coach Hendrix, Randy Johnson, Bill Keffer, Tommy Clark, Randy Rogers, Jon Massey, Peter Aberg, Joe Zimmerman.

Junior Varsity Has Long Season

The junior high round ballers played an erratic style of baskethall — shellacking some enemies and behumbled by others. Their 4-12 season hardly justifies the closeness of some of the games.

Inner circle, Kim Forsythe, Rick Ely, Darren Dial, Stuart Veeder, Greg Goldstrich, Jerry Schwartz, Harris Skibell, David Farris, Frank Davis, Larry Lundy, Randy Pearlman, Brian Carpenter. Girls Go Undefeated In North Zone 4 Named To All-Conference Team

The Greenhill girls' teams continued their winning ways on into the season, finishing with an 18-8 record, and the TISC Championship. The Hornets were 2nd in the SPC, going undefeated in the North Zone, and defeating the Champion Hockaday by 10 points.

Four of the girls were named to the All-Conference teams: Forward Renee Legault was first team; Forward Joanne Powell and Guard Kathryn Dorsey were second team; and Guard Valerie Holloway was named Honorable Mention.

Row 1: Ann McDonald, Shelley Hoffman (35), Coleen McCulley (21), Kathy Dorsey (15), Nancy Rozelle (20). Row 2: Val Holloway (14), Kimi Morris (22), Kathleen McCord (42), Renee Legault (32), Lisa Auvermann (25), Joanne Powell (33), Coach Penny Powell.

High scorers this year were Renee, averaging 25 points per game, and Joanne, averaging 20 points.

This unique team was invited to San Marcos to settle the State Championship for private schools. In a nip and tuck game the girls were edged by the Southerners, St. Pius 49-46.

B-Team Shapes Up

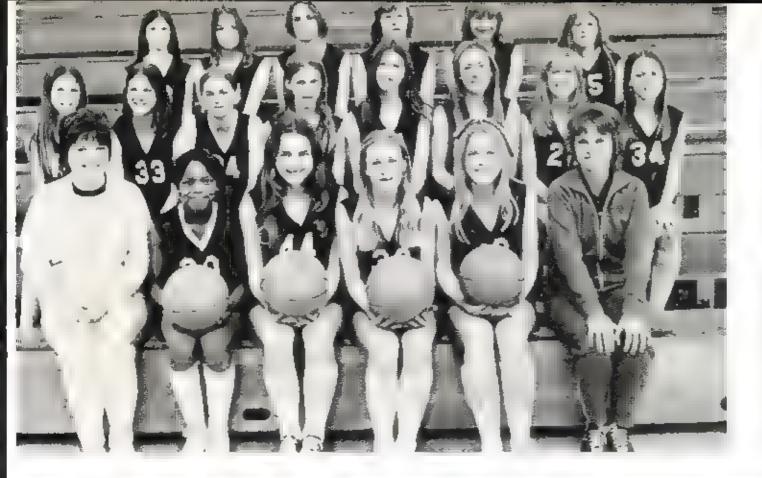

B-teamers progressed to such an extent several were invited to Houston for the SPC finals. Below, Susan Baker, Elka Miller and Cindy Alexander tussle for the ball. At right, Cindy Alexander and Shelley Hoffman plan strategy.

Soccer Team Wins 11:

The soccer A team started off on a gallop. They took three pre-season games against Roosevelt, Pierce and Selwyn. The opening conference game was a 3-0 victory over Trinity Valley. Then came a shocking defeat to Jesuit, a fluke loss of 2-1 due to two penalty kicks.

Ft. Worth Country Day and Cistercian games ended in ties. St. Mark's handed the Hornets another defeat of 3-2.

Seven players made All-TISC — Sergio Mendoza, Dan Erwin, Billy Beck, Jim Robison, Butch Chaddick, Jesse Taylor and Dick Thiot.

Seated: Erik Erwin, Dick Thiot, Dan Erwin, Sergio Mendoza, Greg Giller. Kneeling: Coach Hall, Billy Beck, George Lenox, Mike Wright, Jesse Taylor, Jack Diamond, Mac Henger.

Takes All-Private Cups, Titles

At Christmas, the record was 1-2-2 and the team was 28 points out of first. Working during the holidays and on Saturdays, the team scored the following victories: Trinity Valley 2-0, Jesuit 3-1, Cistercian 3-0, Country Day 1-0, St. Marks 2-0, thus winning the Private Conference with a 6-2-2 record.

The 2-1 victory over Country Day earned the Private Conference Cup. The victory over St. Marks after two overtimes by a score of 3-1 corner kicks, earned yet another title and cup. The total record was 11-2-2, and the winning T.I.S.C. record for the Hornets was 4-0-2.

Seniors Jim Robison and Dan Erwin received honors.

Junior Varsity A and B

Braving the cold, Coaches Horner and Steele led their A and B teams to 4-4 and 1-1-4 seasons. At left, Drew Lenox chests the ball as, below, Coach Horner chats with the referee about a technical point.

Tracksters Excel

Track season looked bright in early March. Medalists Jim Hutcheson returned to break his records in the 100 yard dash, the 220, and 440 relay. Geoff Moore gained strength for his distance runs, and seniors Tom Box and Greg Baten returned for field events. Hutch and Geoff journeyed to Houston with Coach Norman for the Astrodome Invitational. Jim had a sprained ankle and couldn't run, but Geoff ran well, leading his heat for over three legs.

Baseball Team Takes Field

Baseball finally became a reality of Greenhill as this year's squad was the first. The diamond was rough and the recruits green, but Coach Flanagan put a team together to begin a Greenhill tradition. Pictured at left, is pitcher Russel Burnett. Below, Guy Morgan bunts a few as Robert Morton plays backstop.

National Honor Society Induct Six

The Greenhill Chapter of the NHS, with faculty advisor Leslie Randolph, worked well under the constitution formed last year. This year's officers were: Debbie Rodgers, president; Chuck Briant, vice president; and Meredith Alliston, treasurer. The NHS inducted five new juniors and one new senior in addition to the three provisional members chosen spring before last. The provisionals were Vivian Pyle, Cindy Mallett, and Becky Rodgers; the new inductees were Suri Dubin, Bonnie Gerson, Geoff Moore, Sharon Wiener, Cindy Brinker, and Sarita Uhr.

Mortarboard

The Mortarboard, Greenhill girls' service organization, has had a productive and rewarding year. Their activities included serving at the dinner for the New Greenhill Parents, and at the Spaghetti dinner during the sports festival. They sponsored speakers and re-initiated the tutoring program. As a special treat, the girls sold Valentine animals to Greenhill students.

Ski Club Hits The Colorado Slopes

The Greenhill Ski Club made two trips this year. The members went to Winter Park during Christmas vacation, and over Spring vacation they skied at Steamboat Springs. Steamboat and Crested Butte have proven to be the two favorite spots of the club since it was started three years ago. Besides skiing, the members of the club also went snowmobiling and snow tubing.

Rehearsals

Long hours of preparation were obviously needed to co-ordinate a cast of more than 200. This year six hundred students auditioned for parts in the play. Leads were, below, Mike Wright, Meredith Alliston, and Jeri Sines. Below, Kaaren Shalom, a dancing lead, and Mrs. Dolores Rogers tune up on the musical score.

The Play Itself

Finan's Rainbow was another smashing hit directed by Sheryl Ellis and Lucinda Fox assisted by Carol Cam, Diane Dolan, and so many others. Meredith Alliston was Finian, Jerri Sines, Sharon; Mike Wright, Woody; and Mark Bowman, Og. Peter Aberg was Senator Rawkins; Karen Shalom, Susan; Buzz Collins, Stuart Pearlman; and Kathryn Dorsey, Henrietta. Records were cut of the sound track for additional revenue in the Theater Fund Drive.

The Evergreen

The Evergreen, sponsored by faculty members Leslie Randolph and Joe Frisbee, adopted a new format this year, made possible by Galaxy Press. Its design was a front, full-page cartoon, giving the paper a magazine-like effect, and it dealt more exclusively with on campus controversies. In this way, the students aroused greater interest than ever before.

Journalists are, bottom: Janie Harrison, Joe Frisbee, Robbie Hoffman, Daleann States, Myth Monnich, Kathy Reeves. The staff of the Montage, Greenhill's literary magazine, has been hard at work this year. Mrs. Christine Eastus is the staff sponsor, Debbie Rodgers is the editor, and Kathy Peppard and John Burnett are the associate editors.

Middle School Clubs

Middle school clubs met on Wednesdays and Fridays during the second trimester. The clubs ran the spectrum from highly organized clubs as sixth grade choir and film, to less structured as needlepoint, to no structure as cards, games, and the like.

Bottom: Allison Gardner, Cindy Apwisch, Alexander Pratt, Vicki Eastus, Lori Huffstutler, Heather Trim, Kay Runyan, Sasha Pyle, Kathy Reeves, Erik Erwin. Latin Club

For the past fourteen years, the members of the Echo Latin Club have arranged parties and other events for the patients of Woodlawn Hospital. They have also sponsored an annual Junior Players Guild production benefiting the hospital. However, Woodlawn has been closed down, so this will be the club's last year of service to those patients.

Chess Club

In their second year of existence, the Greenhill chess club had a year of many firsts. This was the year for Greenhill's first city wide chess tournament. The year also marked the first time Greenhill had ever held a dual competition match. The ladder boasted over 25 members of which Robbie Hoffman was the number one player. Under the faculty supervisor, Mr. Thompson, and President Jim Hutcheson, the year of 73-74 was a great advancement in Chess at Greenhill.

Environmental Club Works, Cleans Up, Picks Up

Sponsored by Mrs. Kittleman, the environmental club repaired the windmill, ran the paper drive, and beautified the property. Future projects include beehives and a green-house.

Band Continues To Mature,

The band had a very exciting year as well as a very productive one. They livened up football games with spirited tunes. During Christmas, the band put on a concert for the school and visited area shopping centers to entertain the passers-by. Also, many members participated in the orchestra for Finian's Rainbow.

Mr. Kessinger named the outstanding band member as John Wheeler. John is the band's most accomplished musician.

Cavalcade Staff Grows In

Headed by editor Walter Levy and assisted by associate editors Cindy Mallett and Dee Ann Hagler, the Cavalcade staff worked diligently recording a unique year at Greenhill. Unique to this year's book is the use of Olan Mills as photographer, the middle school as layout section, and the involvement of a larger than usual staff from previous years. A record was set in the ad campaign led by Jim Hutcheson and Scott Beard ably aided by Amy Fields. The total in ads and sponsors made it possible for the yearbook to finish in the black.

Section editors were Cindy Mallett, Lee Montgomery, and Kathy Reeves. Especially hardworking members were Jan Fischl, Janie Mallett, Lynne Rosenthal, Lynda Blum, Sabrina Pratt, Lori Huffstutler, and Alison Porter. Daleann States typed the majority of the book. Craig Lidji and John Burnett were artists-designers. Photographers were Mr. Frisbee, Lee Montgomery, and Walter Levy.

Mr. Joe Frisbee, sponsor, hopes to see the tradition of a competitive staff grow at Greenhill.

Exhibit of Humor

"I would like to make it perfectly clear that I am not a crook."

After a hard day's work at Greenhill.

Gosh, he is good looking

Oh no, Young Life started five minutes ago.

I Dare yai

The elites take another victory.

Wow, the Exorcist was sure neat!

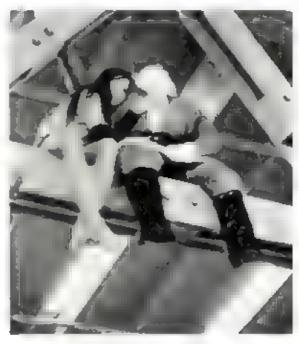

Oh, you think so?

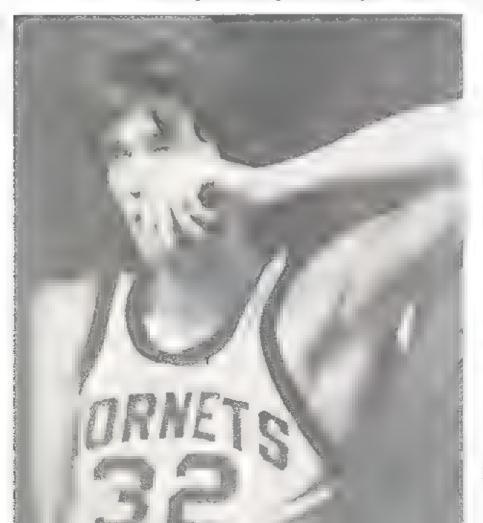

That was fun. Let's do it again.

The napkins are dry, but the cups are much better.

He is so good-looking.

Playboy gets better every month.

Help, Mrs. Darius, my finger's stuck in my mouth.

Yeah, I was pretty good, now that you mention it.

You wonder why Greenhill lost so many games?

Hey, that's a great idea, Mr. Thornton.

Woocoah, Horsee.

See, Class, driving is a serious job.

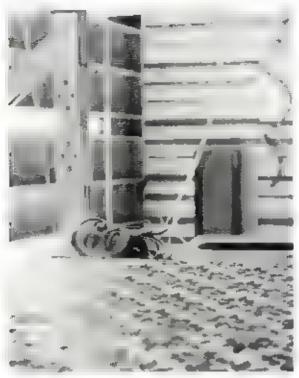

Yummy!

Hi, the mailman delivered me yesterday.

Boo, Boo. . . I say Boo. Listen, little girl, we're here to scare you.

This is what brushing with Pepsodent will do.

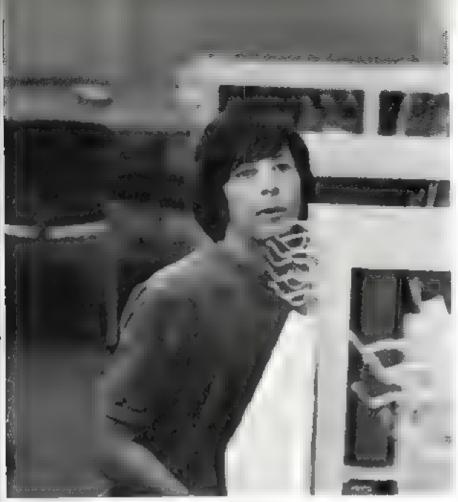

Let it all hang loose.

Why am I here? I've got so much homework.

I'd better hurry.

You can't win them all.

I wish Fleming would shut up.

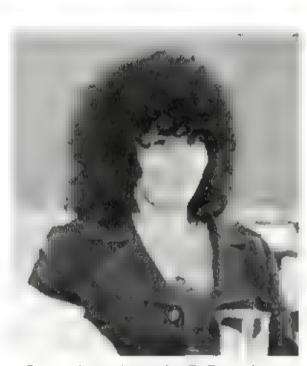

Ah, go to Hades.

What have they done to my child.

Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer.

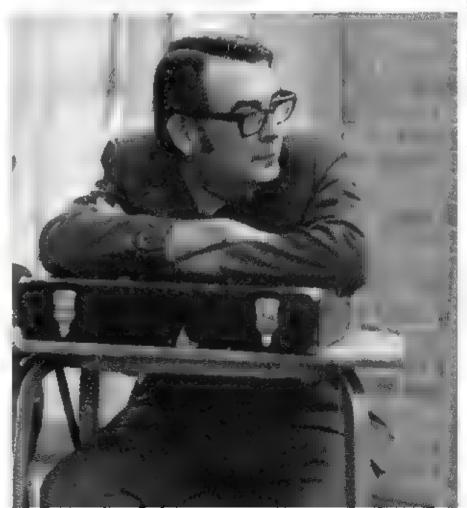

I am going to leave this D. P. can here.

You know where you can go!

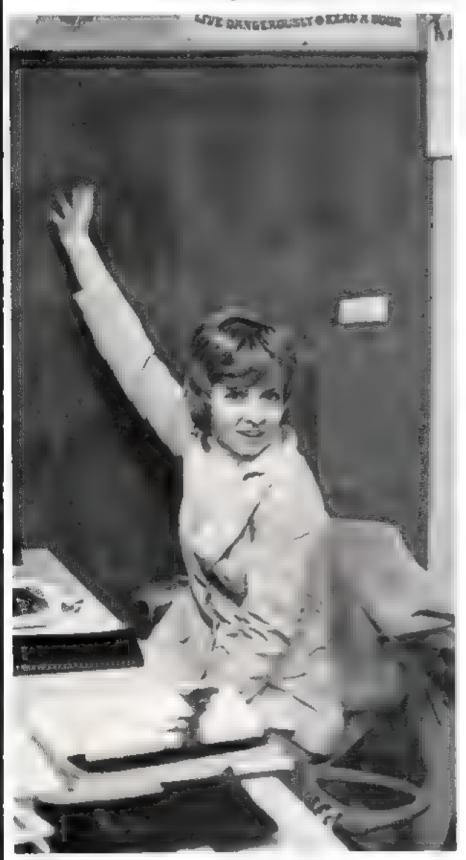

H-u-t-c-h-h-h-h...

They never showed us that in biology.

Ta-da!

This is not a debate, it's a lecture.

"The Thinker"

"I wish they'd quit jacking around."

"If we have to eat this, I'm skipping lunch."

"Of course I use Folgers!"

Boy, will she have a hangover.

He has to use it more than once in the morning.

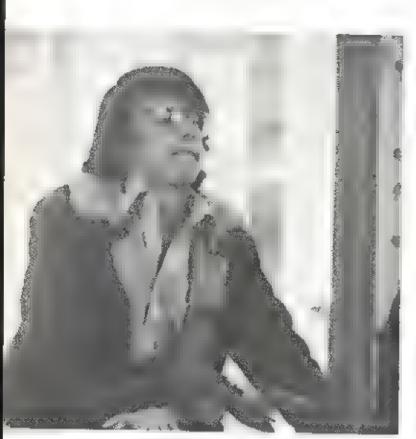

If I can't take it with me, at least I'm gonna eat it!

Cindy lost? You've got to be kidding.

But teacher, where did Susie go?

Excedrin Headache no. 25

One more of these and I won't even make it back on court!

These beauty contests are a real drag!

"Actually I think B. F. Skinner is mistaken in his attitudes about the nature of the verbal community"

I told them to at least lay off of it before a game.

"So I said to them . . . "

Yummy, Yummy

"Watch your step, Joe!"

"I'm the editor, you wanna fight about it, Montgomery?"

Why do I always get myself into these things?

Not again! Ugh!

Come on ya'll - what'd you spike it with?

That's my pressure point!

Sniff, sniff

Look at those legs!

We shall overcome, sisters!

"I don't think we should discuss your experiences as an ambulance driver during lunch, Mr. Penter."

"Oh no, I think rigor mortis has set in."

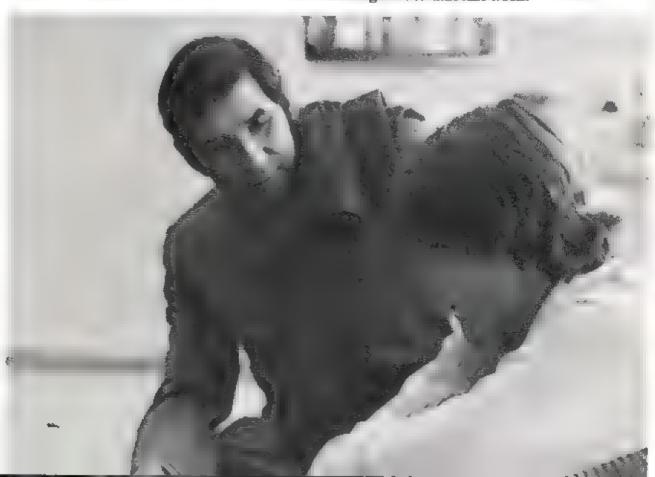

It's only the 5th one I've gotten today!

"During my phallic stage, I..."

I thought I ate that last week!

"But, Tommy — that's just part of growing up!"

But . . But . . . But

That's right - you're the beanstalk and I'm Jack.

"Sure I hate the taste of it, but I use it twice a day."

"What do you mean you didn't send a copy to Dick Nixon?"

Is it true that marriage is fattening?

Duh.
